The first policy issued

On June 23, 1860, Julius Sterling Morton, a Nebraska City farmer, purchased a $5,000 policy from a representative of New York Life. Mr. Morton was the company's first policy owner in the territory, seven years before Nebraska was admitted to the Union as the 37th state. He went on to have a significant political life; he was the founder of Arbor Day, and served as Secretary of Agriculture under President Grover Cleveland.

* Cigna's Group Life and Group Disability Insurance Businesses were acquired on 12/31/2020. As a result, only New York Life workforce and New York Life offices numbers shown above include the impact of the acquisition.
